DETAILED ACTION

The terminal disclaimer filed on 1/14/11 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of 3 separate patents has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

The declaration under 37 CFR 1.132 filed 1/14/11 is sufficient to overcome the rejection of claim 1-3, 5, 6 based upon 6656695.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-3 5 6 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 10, 13-15, 17, 19 28-29, 33-35 of copending Application No. 10/220,999, now patent 7912651. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both are directed to determining the activity of a biologically active agent according to its effect on cellular signaling pathways involving contacting, recording changes, deriving a biomap dataset, and comparing limitations. Paragraph 56 of application 10/220999 states cells used in the assays may be a mixture of cell types. The intended uses for each method are slightly different, however the steps of the method are essentially the same. An agent is applied to a system consisting of one of a list of systems, and data is collected, then compared.

Claims 1-3 5 6 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 17 and 19-22 of copending Application No. 10/716,349. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both are directed to determining the activity of a biologically active agent involving contacting, recording changes, deriving a biomap dataset (produce a biological dataset profile), and comparing limitations. Paragraphs 0052 and 0065 of application 10/220999 states cells used in the assays may be a mixture of cell types and endothelial cells. The intended uses for each method are slightly different, however the steps of the method are essentially the same. An agent is applied to a system consisting of one of a list of systems, and data is collected, then compared.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims 1-3 5 6 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 4-8, and 13-14 of copending Application No. 10/856,564 now patent 7908089. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both are directed to determining the activity of a biologically active agent involving contacting, recording changes, deriving a biomap dataset, and comparing limitations. The intended uses for each method are slightly different, however the steps of the method are essentially the same. An agent is applied to a system consisting of one of a list of systems, and data is collected, then compared.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
